

Which glasses best suit my face shape

- 1 : Move the cursor over the face shapes to display their features
- 2 : Select the shape that best suits your face by clicking on it

In general there are six types of face shapes:

> Oval

> Round

> Diamond

> Square

> Rectangular

> Triangular

Oval face

Oval face has a regular shape since the width of the face is equal to the half of its length.
All types of glasses suit this face shape.

>> cat eye frame

>> oval frame

Oval face

Oval face has a regular shape since the width of the face is equal to the half of its length.

All types of glasses suit this face shape.

>> rectangular frame

>> pilot frame

Oval face

Oval face has a regular shape since the width of the face is equal to the half of its length.
All types of glasses suit this face shape.

>> mask frame

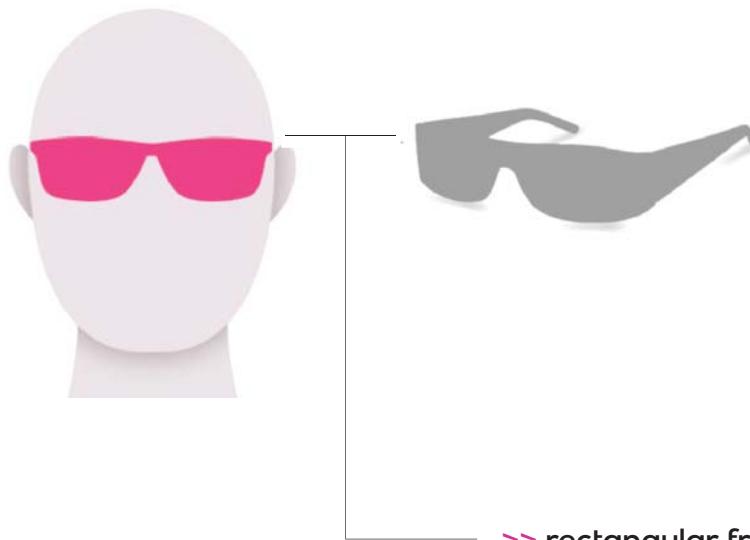

>> round frame

Round face

Oval face has a regular shape since the width of the face is equal to the half of its length.

In order to make a round face appear longer and slimmer, we suggest wearing rectangular frames.

>> rectangular frame

Diamond face

Diamond face has wide or high cheekbones, narrow forehead and chin.

In order to soften the cheekbones and balance a diamond face, we suggest wearing oval or cat eye frames.

>> cat eye frame

>> oval frame

Square face

Square face has a strong jaw, a high forehead and wide cheekbones.

In order to soften the angles of a square face we suggest wearing cat eye, oval or pilot frames.

>> cat eye frame

>> oval frame

Square face

Square face has a strong jaw, a high forehead and wide cheekbones.

In order to soften the angles of a square face we suggest wearing cat eye, oval or pilot frames.

1 2

Rectangular face

Rectangular face has an elongated rectangular shape:
temple width is similar to the jaw line.

In order to shorten a rectangular face, we suggest wearing rectangular or round frames.

>> rectangular frame

>> round frame

Triangular face

Triangular face has a narrow jaw and wide forehead.

In order to lift and enhance your eye shape we suggest wearing cat eye or pilot frames.

**>> cat eye frame**

**>> pilot frame**